Photoville is a new Brooklyn-based photo destination – a veritable village of freight containers transformed into temporary exhibition spaces, taking place this summer from June 22 to July 1, 2012. Photoville will feature a feisty mix of exhibitions, lectures, hands-on workshops, nighttime projections, a photo dog run, a camera greenhouse, and a summer beer-garden with food trucks that will create a photography destination like no other. Dutch partners of Photoville are Fotofestival Naarden, De Fotografenavond en Noorderlicht.

Following on his success with the photo exhibit Dutch Delight at the 2011 New York Photo Festival, photographer and curator Aloys Ginjaar returns to New York with a new selection of work by Dutch photographers. The new exhibition, The Wonder of Woman, will be shown during Photoville.

The exhibition will show work by 28 Dutch photographers, including Jenny Boot - Rinze van Brug - Gon Buurman - Jaap Bijsterbosch - Frank van Delft - Martin Dijkstra - Tara Fallaux - Aloys Ginjaar - Carli Hermès - Dutch J.den Hollander - Barend Houtsmüller - Lilith - Susanne Middelberg - Lenny Moeskops /Diederik Ingel - Mathilde Mupe - Cornelia Nauta - Roger Neve - Lieve Prins - Annelies Rigter - Suzan van de Roemer - Maartje Roos - Govert de Roos - Nancy Schoenmakers - Speer - Paul Tolenaar - Astrid Verhoef - Bianca van der Werf - Shakiro Werleman.
