Your invitation for 'Lilith:
Wallflowers and other people'

28 January - 18 March 2017

WALLFLOWERS AND OTHER PEOPLE

The festive opening of the new show will take place on Saturday, 28 January 2017, from 4 - 6 PM. Of course the artist will be present.

Henriëtte van Gasteren, using the artist name Lilith, is a storyteller with a passion for photography. Since 2006, she has used self-portraits to convey her stories. Her recurring themes have been women, identity, female archetypes, gender bending and life itself. Her work is imbued with the spirit of freedom and equality. Lilith creates humorous and often ironic self-portraits that are often staged in her own home. This will be her third solo at our gallery and this time we'll show a selection of two new series: 'Bit Player' and 'Faded Glory'

BITPLAYER

In 'Bit player' Lilith is portraying her relatives, friends and acquaintances in her stories. In these self-portraits, others play the leading role while Lilith plays a supporting role. The self-portraits are about them, their jobs, their hobbies, their environment and the life they lead. Her working method hasn't changed. She still uses a camera, tripod and remote control.

FADED GLORY

In her latest series of self portraits, 'Faded Glory', she shows us the beauty of decay. Decay of flowers, plants, her body. We can't live forever and Lilith accepts it as a gift that there's a beginning and an end to every life. And there's beauty in every part of every life.

CODA MUSEUM

Partly simultaneous with our show, there will also be an exhibition of Lilith's work in CODA Museum in Apeldoorn. From 29 January up until 28 May 2017: Under My Skin. They will show (another) selection of 4 series and 4 videos. It's a great pleasure to be able to show so much work together with CODA.

We hope to see you soon!
